The Jennings' Homestead—Mr. Siggel
—A Filipino Preaches—Immigration
—Mr. Watchorn—Result of Civilization
—Race Characteristics.

The work of demolishing the old Jennings homestead, formerly the residence of Miss Anna B. Jennings, on Main street, began yesterday, and soon this land mark will be no more. This is the first step towards preparing the site for the new Colonial mansion which is to be erected during the approaching summer. The other house which stood on a line with the above has been moved from the street for a considerable distance, and the ground has been regarded.

It is understood that a very large number of invitations have been issued for the Ellis-Child wedding, probably not far from 1,000.
Already the frame of a new garage has been placed in position in the rear of the Hayes residence where the fire was a few nights ago.Yesterday the Furness family was moving into the house on Unguova place recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Och.
Many people in town will be sorry to learn that Mr. Albert Siggel, for a long time the efficient chief of the Fire Department, is desperately sick, and hardly expected to recover. He has been confined to his house for several weeks, and has steadily declined.

He is a resident of Springfield and has a wife and six children, three sons and as many daughters. The eldest son is in business in New Jersey; another is employed in the cutting department of the Eastern Underwear Company, and two of the daughters work in the same establishment, while the third is understood to be at work at Warner's in Bridgeport.

Miss Ruth Child is home from the school in New York state which she has been attending.

Sunday evening at the Congregational church a large audience filled the house to listen to the talk of a Filipino, a law student from Yale. He spoke pretty good English, but as one gentleman remarked, it was book English with many large words. He said that many of the people in this country are acquiring the language faster than he did, who has been in this country for three years.

Miss Ethel Donaldson is visiting friends in Springfield, Mass.
It is stated that Mrs. Lura B. Switzer has gone west with her son, to visit a brother.On Sunday Mr. George Smith, our assistant postmaster, had for guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Keeler, Mr. E. Penney, Mr. J. W. Bulkeley and Miss Grace Bulkeley.
Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Carson, of Bridgeport, have been spending a few days on the beach with Mrs. Hand.

If there was any auto trap set in town last Sunday, as had been announced, it was done in vain, for no one knew anything about it, and not a speeder was caught. It is generally understood that the state police did not come to town.

The principal topic discussed yesterday by Mrs. Mitchell before the ladies of the Unguova club, was immigration. She began by saying that there are many verses in the Bible which appear to refer to immigration, just as some people have found verses referring to automobiles. As for instance, "The sons of strangers shall build up thy walls." She spoke of the cities of ancient days having gates, with various names, and said that New York may be considered the gate of the nation and Mr. Watchorn the gatekeeper.

Some people think the vast hoard of immigrants are men, but from us, as the old fashioned, quiet Sabbath. The topic was discussed under three heads, who are the immigrants? Why do they come? What will they do with us?
Immigration really began in 1820 and up to 1905 23 million had arrived. Puritans were not immigrants, but colonists who came to found a new country. They were pioneers, and their persistence, which is the history of a country as it gets civilized. Germany is a country in point; China has overflowed into Australia; Japan is seeking Manuria, the United States and South America. There must be an overflow if the home territory is too small. Immigration to America depends upon its industrial and commercial conditions. The agents of steamship lines are everywhere in the world holding out inducements for going to the States. Many who come would be better off at home. Religious persecution is responsible for much immigration, especially with the Jews. The modern facility of transit in Europe and across the Atlantic helps in the work. Then there is assisted immigration, where the countries spend great sums of money to dump into this country undesirable people. Now our laws are keeping back many of this class.

Mrs. Mitchell spoke of the quality of the immigrants, and said that the best class undoubtedly, so far as skilled labor is concerned, comes from France. She said that some kinds of work cannot be done in this country, because the requisite skilled labor cannot be had. The making of first class artificial flowers is all done in France, as well as much of the embroidery worn on their hats and dresses. A house in New York has had to open a plant in France for the making of flowers. New machinery, said the speaker, tends to retard immigration. Operatives in the woolen mills have been reduced one-third by the introduction of new machinery. Recurring again to Mr. Watchorn, Mrs. Mitchell said he is a very human man, whose heart is in the work, and who has a great deal of charity for the immigrants. He was once an immigrant himself to this country with but 25 cents in his pocket. A few of the notable men who have come to America as immigrants were mentioned, including Carl Schurz, Joseph Pulitzer, Andrew Carnegie, Senator Wm. J. Sewell, John Crimmins, and others. All the great who return home are banners of light, and they aid commerce by demanding the things they have been used to in America. There are but ten hundred thousand Frenchmen in America. The British and Canadians are more birds of passage than the Italians. The characteristics of the various races which come to this country were alluded to, including the Armenians; Canadians whom she considered rather undesirable; British which are often not very good; although an English servant is a very valuable addition to any family; Finns, good for farm laborers; French, intelligent and thrifty; Germans among our most desirable class; Irish, unusually vigorous, bright, smart and industrious; Greeks, unhealthy with poor physiques; Jews who control the clothing trade, and of whom there are one million and 100,000 in this land half of whom live in New York; Italians, made up of very different races; Japanese, valuable in the vineyards and beet fields of the west; and Slavs, a great many kinds of people together, mostly fit for manual labor.
